

WHAT YOU RECEIVE

Appraisal Response Letter

When an appraiser flags a condition that threatens the loan, a licensed NC GC writes the documented rebuttal — per-concern, with photos and remaining-useful-life evidence — so a 'subject-to' or a low value doesn't kill your deal.

WHAT THIS IS + HOW TO USE IT

Save the deal at appraisal

Appraisers flag conditions — roof, peeling paint, 'apparent' issues — that trigger repair requirements or 'subject-to' conditions the lender won't fund around. A licensed GC's documented response, with evidence, is what clears those flags fast.

WHEN TO USE IT

The moment an appraisal comes back subject-to-repair or with a condition flag that threatens financing. Speed matters — this is a one-business-day deliverable.

SAMPLE

WHY APPRAISAL FLAGS KILL DEALS

What's actually at stake

FLAG TYPE	WHAT IT TRIGGERS
Subject-to-repair	Lender won't fund until the item is fixed or cleared
FHA/VA condition	Strict habitability standard — paint, handrails, etc.
'Recommend inspection'	A second specialist report + delay, or a value hold
Low value	Appraisal gap the buyer must cover or renegotiate

THE CLOCK

Every one of these stalls the close. The deals that die at appraisal usually die from silence — nobody pushes back with documentation. A same-day, licensed-GC rebuttal is how you keep the timeline alive.

THE APPRAISER'S CONCERNS

What was flagged

FLAG	APPRAISER NOTE	THREAT
Roof	'Apparent wear, recommend inspection'	Subject-to
Exterior paint	'Peeling, FHA concern'	Repair required
Crawlspace	'Possible moisture'	Subject-to

[Date] · RE: 123 Sample St — Appraisal Condition Response

To the lender / appraisal management company,

Southern Cities Construction (NC GC License #107724) inspected the conditions noted in the appraisal for the above property. Our findings, with supporting photographs, are below and attached. In our professional opinion as a licensed General Contractor, the noted conditions do not represent a deficiency that impairs habitability or value as detailed.

Sincerely,

Darius T. Walton

PER-CONCERN RESPONSE

Evidence the lender accepts

ROOF — CLEARED

Architectural shingle, manufacture date 2018 (photo of date strip attached). Approximately 12 years of remaining useful life. No active leaks, no compromised decking observed. Recommend the subject-to condition be removed.

EXTERIOR PAINT — SCOPED

Peeling limited to north elevation trim. Scope to scrape, prime, and paint provided; cost $1,200. Recommend repair-escrow rather than holding the loan.

CRAWLSPACE — CLEARED

Moisture reading within normal range; vapor barrier intact (photos attached). No standing water or structural impact. Recommend the subject-to condition be removed.

DOCUMENTATION PACKAGE

What's attached + how to submit

EVIDENCE	FOR
Date-stamped photos (9)	Roof, paint, crawlspace
Roof date-strip close-up	Remaining-life claim
Moisture reading photo	Crawlspace clearance
GC-signed letter	The professional opinion of record

HOW TO SUBMIT

Your lender forwards the package to the appraiser / AMC as a reconsideration. A licensed-GC opinion with photo evidence is the format that clears subject-to conditions without a second appraisal.

OUTCOME + TIMELINE

What happens after you submit

STEP	TYPICAL TIMING
GC response delivered to you	1 business day
Lender forwards reconsideration	Same / next day
Appraiser reviews evidence	1–3 business days
Condition cleared or repair-escrowed	Deal back on track

THE LIKELY RESULT

Two of the three flags here (roof, crawlspace) clear outright with the photo evidence; the paint moves to a small repair-escrow. Net: financing proceeds instead of the deal dying on a 'subject-to' you could have answered in a day.
